NLGA WELCOMES ASSOC. DIRECTOR MICHAEL CONWAY

The National Lieutenant Governors Association (NLGA) welcomes Associate Director Michael Conway.

“Michael brings 15-years of experience working with or for state government officials on a bi-partisan basis to NLGA,” said NLGA Director Julia Hurst. “His background includes time as a state government association staff person and as a lobbyist to state governments and to Congress.”

“I have spent the majority of my professional career in membership service organizations for elected officials and I appreciate the opportunity to contribute to the efficiency and effectiveness of state and territorial governments through NLGA,” said Conway.

Michael spent a total of 7-years as a lobbyist to both state governments and to Congress where he developed an expertise in transportation and highway safety. He worked with the rail, truck, motorcycle, ATV, and associated allied trades industries and he also spent time as a state consultant for federated transportation services.

“As a lobbyist, Michael represented his employers to the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL), to the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials, to The Council of State Governments (CSG), and to the American Legislative Exchange Council (ALEC),” said Hurst. “He comes to NLGA with a thorough understanding of both the cooperative and the competitive environment in which NLGA and its public and private sector members are engaged.”

Prior to joining NLGA, Michael spent 8-years in bi-partisan service to members at CSG and ALEC. He is a long time resident of Kentucky and a graduate of Centre College. He is an avid traveler with his most recent journeys taking him to China and South Africa.
