

National Lieutenant Governors Association

Public Leadership in Energy and Environmental Stewardship Award

Baker Hughes will annually present an award to honor a member of the National Lieutenant Governors Association (NLGA) who is committed to working within a state, region and/or communities as a steward of both energy and the environment. The award recognizes a public official who played key roles regarding energy and environmental stewardship. These stewardship efforts enhance the lives of constituents and impact every aspect of American life including energy, the economy, community and building design, agriculture, water and other resources, clean technology, the environment, transportation, social problem solving, job creation, education, health and health care, and more.

To nominate yourself or a colleague, please submit the following materials by email to Paul Doucette, paul.doucette@BakerHughes.com, by 8:00pm Eastern on February 1, 2021 to accommodate a potential virtual presentation (deadline in 2022 is February 15). You will receive a confirmation of receipt within 48-hours.

- Nomination Letter – This letter must contain the following information:
  - Nominators name, address, email and phone contact information
  - Nominees name, address, email and phone contact information
- Maximum one-page summary from the nominator (which may be one's self) detailing the specific stewardship leadership activities engaged in by the nominated individual. Additional pages will be deleted.
- One-page biography of the nominated individual. Additional pages will be deleted.
- At least one photograph that represents the nominee (300 dpi minimum quality for web and print use). Additional photos are optional.

Who is eligible to submit a nomination for an award?

NLGA members, their staffs, employees of Baker Hughes, NLGA Partners, and other state government observers, researchers, and activists are eligible to nominate an individual. NLGA staff may NOT nominate an individual.

Who is eligible to receive an award?

Only NLGA members are eligible for the award. This is defined as the state official first in line of gubernatorial succession in every state and U.S. territory.

How will the awardee be selected?

The selection committee is comprised of individuals selected by Baker Hughes and the selection committee may not be named publicly. The committee will review nominations based on each nominee's eligibility and the nominee's contribution to stewardship of energy and the environment. The winner will exhibit the benchmark of success described in the awards' criteria.
