Partners also participate in the planning of the Partner Meeting Panel of speakers, and are included in all year-round NLGA materials as Partner.

DID YOU KNOW?

Lieutenant governors become Governor at a greater rate than any other elected official.

Lieutenant governors have a variety of important duties, including overseeing elections, presiding over the legislature and heading up state departments.

For more than 50 years, the National Lieutenant Governors Association has successfully convened lieutenant governors on a bipartisan basis to drive the agenda of the states and the nation forward.

ABOUT THE OFFICE OF LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR...

Lieutenant governors are the ONLY officials with specific duties and powers in two branches of state government: the executive and the legislative.

As of 2018, NLGA Members become governor at a greater rate than any other elected official.

More than half preside over the state senate, and a majority pursue legislative initiatives, serve in the Governor's cabinet, and/or oversee state departments and functions.

WHY THE NLGA?

NLGA'S MISSION

For more than 50 years, the NLGA has successfully convened the seconds-in-command of the states on a bi-partisan basis, driving the agenda of the states and the nation forward.

Through the NLGA Center for State Strategies, elected official members assume national leadership roles on important policy issues.

Professional Development

NLGA elected official members are provided education and best practices to take back to their states.

National Recognition

NLGA members are elected to national leadership posts by their peers, and are recognized with awards for their work in the arts, environmental stewardship, and promoting healthy lifestyles.

NLGA and the Global Economy

NLGA is a member of the intergovernmental Policy Advisory Committee to the U.S. Trade Ambassador. NLGA also partners to conduct international missions across the globe, and arranges meetings with several Embassies annually.
